

Structure of the articles:

Both in the contributions sent to the Monographic Section and to that of the Studies and Researches, the article must gather and hold the following structure:

- Title of the article in Spanish language (and between brackets and in size 10, title in English language).
- Author/s and place of work.
- Summary in Spanish (maximum of 300 words).
- Abstract in English (maximum of 300 words).
- Key words in Spanish and in English (maximum of 6 words in each language)
- TEXT OF THE ARTICLE (Introduction, materials and methods, results, discussion).
- Notes (if any).
- Bibliographical references that must comply with APA norms (6º edit).
- Academic and profesional profile of the author/s and address of the autor/s.
- Date of reception – revisión – acceptance of the article.

The whole article (including abstract and bibliographical references) must have between 7.000 and 10.000 words (for articles to the Monographic Section); between 3.000 and 7.000 words (for articles to the Section of Studies and Researches, and also for the section of Documents), and between 500 and 1.000 words for the section of bibliographical reviews.